/David E. England/ Examiner, Art Unit 2443

Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: Attorney contacted the Examiner to discuss the claim language of claim 12. Attorney stated that Deverill and Snapp didn't teach marking the earlier measurement as changed as stated in the claim. After careful examination of the prior art it is clear that Snapp teaches over writing the old value and that is not the same as marking the earlier measurement as changed. Attorney also stated that the prior art didn't teach the aggregating and aggregated value. Examiner stated that Deverill clearly teaches this limitation since aggregating, as broadly interpreted by the Examiner, could mean to just put together, much like a packet. Examiner will update search for the claim limitation not taught by the cited prior art.

Refs. A and B are directed to completely different subject matters than the present invention, and thus, do not teach "A method for providing attestation in a server execution environment," as recited in claim 12. Further, Ref. A fails to teach " that measurements [which] are taken... result in a unique fingerprint for each respective selected part."
